Publicity & Press Relations

If you have a way with words and a knack for getting people's attention, you will be very happy working on this committee. Their job is to create enthusiasm for Grad Night among students, parents, school administrators, faculty and community at large. This is done through announcements in the school paper, the parent newsletter, articles in the local newspapers, contact with radio stations, Facebook, MySpace and any other medium you can think of.

Also Design Tickets For Sober Grad

If you are an ingenious person, the ticket committee wants you. Their job is to provide a method of identifying those who should be admitted into Grad Night. Tickets can be a very clever publicity stunt used as the final lure to get students to attend. For example, if a travel theme is selected, tickets may be airline jackets containing "boarding passes" that are presented at the "ticket counter" where a "boarding pass" is issued. You get the idea!!

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment Imagineers
Sharol Mackie & Leisa Tomjack

We are looking for approx 12 volunteers. If you love partying with hundreds of teenagers, you'll love working on this committee. Members are responsible for planning, setting up, and running the games that will amuse, challenge and beguile the seniors. Games of chance, carnival games, athletic games-you name it. There are dozens to choose from, all previously tried and tested. Let your imagination go wild.

GRUB MASTER
Theresa Rickard 604.3340

We are looking for approx. 6 volunteers. Help with Fundraiser Dinner This committee provides simple, recognizable but creatively served food and beverages that appeal to the graduates. If this can be done while conforming to the general party theme, so much the better. They will work with the fundraising committee to solicit donations from local fast food parlors, restaurants, hotels, churches and other community organizations.
